REFUND POLICY

In recognition of, and in compliance with requirements for a cooling off period, the School's refund policy allows for a 10 day period from date of receipt of course material (28 days in the case of enrolments from outside Australia), whereby the student must return the course material in excellent order.

In such instances, a refund of monies paid will be refunded to the student less the stated non-refundable Enrolment Fee and RPL fee (if applicable) for the Course. An administration fee of 10% of the unit will be deducted in the case of single unit enrolments.

Should a student wish to withdraw after the 10 day cooling off period, a full explanation of the reasons for returning the Course should be set out in writing to the Registrar. Specific conditions will apply as follows:-

- (1) If a student has enrolled in a professional programme and is paying on terms to complete the course, while a contractual agreement may be waived they will be required to retain all course material they are holding at that date. The School does not recycle second hand course material.
- (2) If a student paying on a Individual Subject basis decides to discontinue outside of the 10 Day cooling off period, no refund will be given because:-
 - (a) The School does not recycle second hand course material.
 - (b) The student is under no further financial obligation.
 - (c) The student has the option of completing the Subject and obtaining A Statement of Attainment.
- (3) Those students who have paid in full for a professional programme and decide to discontinue outside the 10 days cooling off period will be required to- submit a full explanation of the reasons for withdrawing from the Course as mentioned. The School does not recycle second hand material. All course material will remain the property of the student. The student will have the option to complete certain units in order to gain a Statement of Attainment should they wish to do so.
